MANAGEMENT DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS*A) Economic Scenario and Industry Structure :

Coming out of the Global Recession during 2008-09, Indian economy showed strong growth especially in the second half of 2009-10 and 2010-11. GDP grew over 8.3% in 2010-11. Significant part of this growth is the contribution of industrial growth at 8.4% compared to 8.1% in 2009-10.

While the automotive industry growth was stagnant during 2009-10, the industry growth was over 27% in 2010-11. The leading segment of the growth was the commercial vehicle segment with a growth of overall 32%. The following table indicates segment-wise growth of automotive industry over last 3 years. Along with this growth, the commodity prices (steel and oil) hardened during the second half of the financial year putting significant pressure on the cost of manufacturing across the automotive and automotive component industry :

Segment	2008-09	2009-10	2010-11
Passenger Car	1,838,697	2,351,240	2,987,296
Commercial Vehicle	417,126	566,608	752,735
3-Wheeler	501,030	619,093	799,553
2-Wheeler	8,418,626	10,512,889	13,376,451
Total	11,175,479	14,049,830	17,916,035

Source: SIAM Report

B) Opportunities & Threats:

During the year 2009-10 M/s. Kalyani Forge Ltd had systematically identified and implemented cost reduction measures. All those components which were contributing very low for profitability where the value addition per kg of input/finish weight are lower are identified and requested the customers to increase the price and where ever we could not get the required price, we requested them to find an alternative for those components.

A detailed Budget for the year 2011-12 has been made with such minute details as the division, the cost code-wise, item-wise consumption to be made per month for the year 2011-12 and is being monitored fortnightly.

In some low volume products as the inventory costs are high your company requested the customers to make alternative arrangement. We could get approx. Rs. 2.20 per input Kg of raw material in most of the cases as conversion cost increase and we are using approximately 2000 tonnes of input steel.

The major threat continues to be in the spiraling input costs which are effecting the bottom-line. Attracting and retaining the talents especially in the Machining line is becoming more and more difficult as the salaries offered in the region are increasing with arrival of multinational companies in the region.

C) Outlook:

All macro economic indicators show a positive outlook for the year 2011-12. The economy is expected to grow over 7.5% to 8.4% and industrial output is estimated to be growing at 12% in 2011-12. Automotive Industry, which is the main stay of your business, is also expected to grow over more than 10%.

In the light of the above, Kalyani Forge's growth in top-line is expected to be 15%. With leaner cost structure established during last year, bottom-line growth is expected to be significantly higher than the top-line growth.

D) New Business Development :

Traditionally, Automotive Industries grow with launch of new vehicles periodically and Tier I Companies growth is critically dependent on the ability to develop and launch new products on time to the OEMs. Over the last 3 decades, Kalyani Forge has developed and sustained this capability. In the year 2011-12, revenue on account of new products will be more than 20% of total revenue. Organizationally, Kalyani Forge has recently aligned itself to ensure that enhanced focus is given to both business development and new product launches. We are specializing in the forging and machining of Connecting rods.

E) Risks and Concerns:

One of the key risks we are facing is related to attrition and retention of talent, both at working level and at managerial level. Being a Technology Company, hiring and retaining top-notch talent is a key to continued success of our Organization.

With export opportunities opening up again after recession and in the year 2010-11, your Company's revenues through exports would be close to 31% in the year 2011-12. Exposure to export market has its own set of risks in terms of business continuity and maintaining highest product quality.

F) Internal Controls and Adequacy:

Through the year 2010-11 both with external help and internal controls, the SAP utilization has improved significantly ensuring timely and accurate data for decision making. We are continuing to invest in training of people in using SAP. We are also integrating as many control processes as possible in SAP to ensure adequate internal controls in place.

With more and more of Internal Auditors for finding loop holes in internal controls has helped us to improve in every area of our business.

The recent detailed budget and budgetary control further helped us in finding deviations faster and to take remedial measures.

G) Financial and Operational performance :

During the year 2010-11 the Company produced 17398 MT of forgings as against 12803 MT produced during the year 2009-10. More significantly, the utilization of assets in Machine Shop improved leading to supply of value added forgings to customers. Between April, 2010 and March, 2011, the sale of value added forgings increased from Rs.101.86 million to Rs.216 Million a month. More components were added in the warm and cold forging division with the output improving by 17% in 2010-11 compared to 2009-10.

In terms of cost control, several initiatives like raw material yield improvement, power consumption, oil consumption, stores and die steel consumption were deployed leading to overall control in cost of manufacturing.

H) Manpower Development in HR and Industrial relations:

As the economy improved during 2010-11, the Company started rehiring employees to support the growth. Many of the employee benefits which were curtailed during the recession were reinstated. Industrial relation continued to be cordial during the Financial Year.

I) Wage Agreement:

We have successfully implemented the wage agreement with Union.

J) Corporate Social Responsibility :

As a part of its corporate responsibility to the society, your Company has been supporting and providing assistance to nearby villages by providing books and other stationery, providing clean drinking water facility, sharing knowledge and experience with students by the Company employees, giving donations to NGOs for upliftment of unprivileged communities.

K) Cautionary Statements:

Statements in the management discussions and analysis section describing company's projections, estimations, expectation and predictions may be "forward looking statements" within the meaning of applicable securities laws and regulations. Actual results could differ materially from the expressed or implied. Important factors that would make a difference to the company's operations include demand supply conditions, raw material prices, changes in government regulations, tax regimes, competition, economic developments within and outside the country, etc.
